Jasmine is a busy mom.

Her daughter is in third grade. Her son is two.

Jasmine really needs to find childcare for her son so she can go to work and find time to focus on her schoolwork.

But babysitters are expensive, and she can't depend on her family to watch her two-year-old every day.

She doesn't want him staring at a screen for hours. She wants him to be learning and ready for kindergarten. She feels stuck ... and tired.

Sound familiar?

“When I recall the little girl I brought to you, who spoke no English and had few social skills, and now hear from her kindergarten ESL teacher about how well she is progressing, I think this comes under the heading of a miracle. Your teachers are fantastic; the atmosphere is loving and soundly grounded in the best educational techniques. As a former pre-school teacher, I salute you for your skills and dedication.”

- Ann S.

"I thank God for this program. Not only does it help me out by providing free child care, but it gives my family access to so many other resources that are helping us better ourselves. I feel like Early Head Start is helping my child become a better student and at the same time, it's helping me become a better mom. This program gives me hope for the future."

- Tanecia A., Early Head Start® Parent
